THE MAGIC GARDEN MYSTERY

1. "This is a really lovely garden!" smiled Baby Drummer. "So warm and light and filled with such beautiful flowers!"

2. "Oh, look, I wonder what's behind the Prickly Wicky Hedge? Shall we take a look?" "No, you mustn't look there!" shouted Sunblossom sternly. "No-one is allowed there except..."

3. Just then, Sunblossom stopped herself. "I almost gave away the surprise!" she chuckled. "Come and have a sunshine tea with me until it is time!" "Time for what?" asked Baby Stella. But Sunblossom only laughed.

4. "Here come Moonshimmer and Fizzy now. It must be time already!" said Sunblossom. "Off you go with Starlash, everyone! You'll have a lovely time!" But as they went through the archway, they had a shock! Merribelle the cow had strayed in from Merry Meadow and had trampled all over Fizzy's special magic flowers. "Oh dear, I'm sorry," apologised Merribelle sadly.

5. "My Fizziwhizz Flowers are ruined!" cried Fizzy. "I can't grow any more in time! My magic flower rhyme won't work without my Stardust Flowers!"

6. "Why don't we give you our Stardust Flowers?" suggested Moonshimmer gently. "Starlash and Bright Night can give them to the moonbeams to plant quickly in the night sky!"

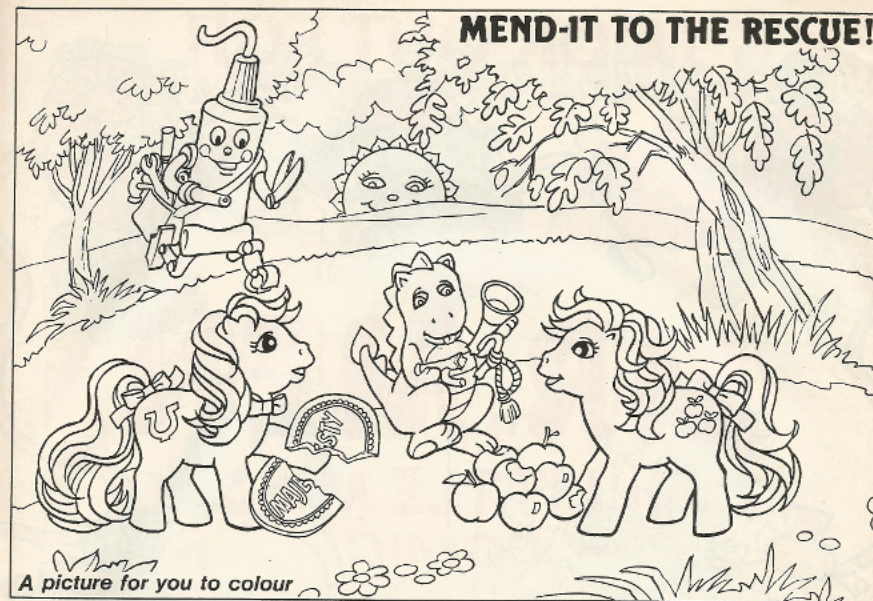

7. "I wonder why the moonbeams are planting flowers in the sky?" whispered Baby Stella. "I love stars!" said Starflash with a little secret smile.

8. "Watch the sky!" called Moonshimmer as Fizzy began to speak. "Magic stardust flowers on Fizziwhizz Night, whizz and fizz for our delight... make a truly wondrous sight!"

9. And as they all watched, Baby Paws and his little pony friends saw the flowers start to whizz and fizz and whirl and sparkle! They burst into beautiful shapes, some of them like giant butterflies, and others like great golden towers and silver fountains! Can you see which pony had her name spelled out in golden stars?

Fizziwhizz Night is celebrated each year in Pony Land. The very special Stardust Flowers wait to hear Fizzy's magic rhyme and then they whizz and fizz without harming anyone at all! It's real Pony Land magic!

ONE MAGICAL NIGHT

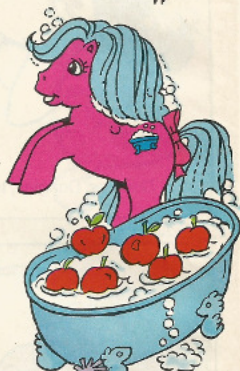

The Little Ponies are busy
Preparing for a special night,
They're making turnip lanterns
Which in the trees will shine bright.

They've picked apples from the orchard,
And for a wonderful treat
Gingerbread has made toffee apples!
They taste so lovely and sweet.

Some apples will soon be bobbing
In water from the Silver Stream,
And everyone will be hoping that
Theirs is the winning team.

Oh, look, someone is coming!
A witch in a mask and a cloak!
But I hear Little Pony giggles.
Please, let us in on your joke!

Ah, now I see quite clearly,
Here comes dear old Masquerade!

Picture Post

Slippers the Slapperdash Pixie and his Paper Pixie helpers have been working very hard to make new slapperdashes for some little ponies. Now that they're finished, the slapperdashes have been put into a balloon basket and sent off. But instead of writing the little ponies' names on the labels, Slippers has drawn a picture for each pony! Can you guess from the pictures on the labels which little ponies will each receive a lovely brand new pair of slapperdashes?

Answers: 1. Baby Explorer, 2. Baby Night Song, 3. Baby Rainfeather, 4. Squirrel, 5. Shaggy.

THE CRYSTAL CONKER

One day, Rainbow Magic saw Prince Acorne coming up the mountain. "Why do you look so sad?" asked the little pony.

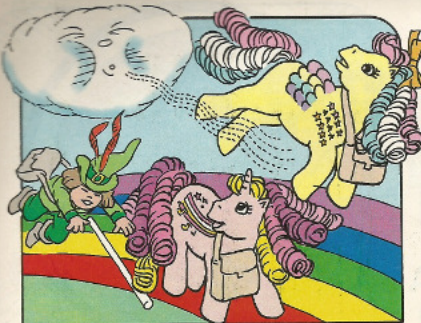

"The Terrible Tree Troll has challenged me to a conker contest. If he wins, he will claim Princess Sweetbriar for his bride!"

"But he has taken all the best conkers!" sighed Prince Acorne. "Without your help, little pony, I shall lose my kingdom and my bride!"

"We must go at once to Shimmer Shammer Island where the Shimmer Shammer bird lives," decided Rainbow Magic. "He is the only bird who knows where to find the Crystal Tree." "Climb upon my magic rainbow!" shouted Rainbow Rider. "There's room enough for two!"

After a time, Rainbow Rider said, "We're almost there! My magic compass is never wrong! But what's the West Wind doing?"

"What will you give me to stop blowing you off course?" demanded the Wind. "This sweet dreams pillow!" replied the prince.

"Just what I wanted . . . I love sweet dreams! All right, I'll gently blow you down to the island," promised the West Wind happily. "That pillow was really meant for the Weather Witch!" chuckled Prince Acorne. "Wasn't that lucky?"

"Hello, Shimmer! Here's a rainbow feather to add to your collection," said Rainbow Magic. "How kind!" replied Shimmer delightedly.

"Please could you help us to find the Crystal Tree?" begged Prince Acorne. "No problem . . . follow me!" laughed Shimmer.

"Oh, what a beautiful crystal tree!" said the prince. "Take care picking the conker," advised Shimmer. "There is only one!"

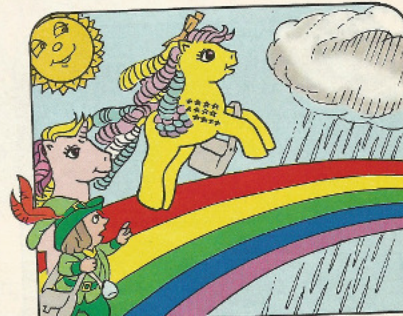

"Hold it carefully . . . it will break quite easily!" warned Shimmer. "Now follow me, everyone, to the Everlasting Lake!"

"You must dip the crystal conker into the Everlasting Lake. Then it will last forever and it will never break. But first you have to throw a gift to the Shimmering Fishes." Rainbow Rider looked into her saddle bag. "They'll love my rainbow cakes!" she said.

"Hurry back to Tall Trees Land, but do come and see me again soon!" smiled Shimmer, as he waved them all goodbye.

"We're running into rain!" muttered the prince. "Don't worry, I'll wish for good weather!" said Rainbow Magic.

"Home at last!" sighed Prince Acorne. "There's Sycamori with a huge basket of conkers! He looks so confident!"

"I thought you'd be too afraid to accept my challenge!" sneered Sycamori. "Ha! Fancy playing with a crystal conker!"

"An everlasting crystal conker!" whispered Rainbow Magic as the prince swung his conker hard . . . and Sycamori's conker fell to the ground in pieces! Prince Acorne laughed. "I still have lots of other conkers!" jeered the Tree Troll but, one by one, the prince smashed them all!

"There goes your last conker!" declared Prince Acorne. "And now I banish you to the Great Gloomy Tree in the Dark Forest!"

Soon, Prince Acorne and Princess Sweetbriar were married. Rainbow Magic and Rainbow Rider were their special guests, and so was . . . Shimmer!

Prince Acorne has put the Crystal Conker in a secret place. He may need it again one day . . . or perhaps he may lend it to a little pony! We shall have to wait and see!
